Dear Sirs,

I'm saddened and disappointed to hear of the plans to demolish the above building as part of the Stratford Gateway project. This is an important historical and beautiful building which only contributes to the aesthetic of the town and serves as a great introduction for many visitors whose journey in Stratford begins at the top of Henley Street.

Not only is the building worth saving in its own right, but also the current business that occupies it, Boston Tea Party, has become a staple in Stratford and suits the building perfectly. BTP is clearly a hit with locals and visitors alike and is always busy, bringing valuable income and employment to the town.

Please do not allow this building and the company that currently occupies it to be lost, it would be a grave mistake, please take this email as a protest against said action.
