Executive Summary

The Active Communities Strategy is a comprehensive and broad strategic document that links the Corporate Objectives of Stratford-on-Avon District Council to the current National and Local Health & Wellbeing agenda.

This strategy builds on the legacy of the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games and provides clear guidance for the District Council to ensure it effectively utilises all available resources in achieving the vision of: 'Getting Stratford District Active'.

The document sets out why sport and physical activity opportunities are important to leading healthier lifestyles for individuals and communities. It strives to improve the standards of local community facilities, sport clubs, develop coaches and increase volunteering, to ensure that opportunities for participation are open and inclusive to all.

Health and Wellbeing is a fast moving landscape and therefore the District Council will work to deliver the strategy around three overarching themes.

Theme 1

Encouraging Active Communities

Theme 2

Enhancing and Sustaining Facility Provision

Theme 3

Engaging to Raise the Profile of Sport and Physical Activity

The Active Communities Strategy builds on the new Sport England, Youth & Community Strategy, under the banner of 'creating a sporting habit for life' (2012-17) and Warwickshire's Health & Wellbeing Strategy and the Joint Strategic Needs Analysis (JSNA).

The strategy has been developed by the District Council and its partners to improve the overall health of all our communities, within an environment of change and financial constraints by delivering 'a better service with less resources'.

In conclusion this strategy will act as an advocacy document for the promotion, co-ordination and delivery of health and wellbeing opportunities in the District.

This document builds upon the previous Active Communities Strategy 2008-2012. Below are some of the headline results over the 5 years.

A review of the different work streams and activity programmes recorded that:

- Over 4.5 million people visited the four District Council Leisure Centres
- 35,391 older adults participated in the Active Aging programmes
- 7,822 young people were booked onto the Hi-5 holiday play schemes
- 13,664 young people took part in the Play Strategy (2008-2011) activity programmes
- 50 schools (Primary & Secondary) and 6,669 pupils participated in the Active School tournament programme
- The leisure centre management contract was successfully retendered in 2010 and £500k of capital was invested in the facilities.
- Over £250k was invested in the Stratford destination skate park, recreation ground play space and other play areas across the District.
- The Sport England 'Active Peoples Surveys' report that participation rates for the District in sport and physical activity are above both the West Midlands Regional and National average.

Stratford-on-Avon District Council Active Communities Strategy (2013 – 2018)

Our Mission – to create a coherent strategy in order to
'Get Stratford District Active'

Cllr Lynda Organ Portfolio Holders Introduction

I am delighted to introduce the District Council's second Active Communities Strategy. This document provides a framework for the future provision of sport and physical activity. It identifies the role of Stratford-on-Avon District Council as a provider, of enabler and advocate for physical activity and sport, in partnership with other agencies from a Local to National level.

The District Council recognise the valuable contribution that sport and physical activity can make to peoples health and wellbeing and its ability to tackle the challenges our communities face in their day to day lives.

Physical activity improves overall health. Tangible benefits include tackling obesity, lowering risks of heart disease, stroke and hypertension, managing diabetes, preventing cancer, reducing osteoporosis, falls prevention in older adults and minimising arthritis. Documented mental health benefits include reduced stress and anxiety.

Sport can also bring people of different ethnic and cultural backgrounds together by providing opportunities to share common experiences. Sport can, due to its reliance on volunteers, encourage individuals to actively participate in community life.

Why Sport Matters

"Sport has the power to change the world, it has the power to inspire in a way that little else does, it speaks to youth in a language they understand. It laughs in the face of discrimination".

Nelson Mandela

Producing a strategy is always much easier than implementing one and this document recognises that challenge. The Active Communities Strategy 2013-2018 will be subject to ongoing monitoring and evaluation. A review of the work streams and milestones will be carried out annually, to assess the implementation of the strategy and reassess the priority areas in light of Local, Regional and National context, as well as changing trends within the Health & Wellbeing agenda.

With the clear commitment and leadership of the District Council, and the active involvement of all of the partners, real progress will be possible.

The results and improved health outcomes will be of significant benefit to everyone living in Stratford District.

Context

Purpose of the Strategy

The Active Communities Strategy seeks to ensure the effective planning and co-ordination of opportunities for participation in sport and physical activity. It strives to meet the needs and aspirations of the District's residents and visitors in support of the Council's Corporate Objectives.

The strategy intends to:

- Raise the profile of sport and physical activity as a significant contributor to realising the District Councils wider aspirations
- Highlight how sport and physical activity can address cross cutting issues including:-
  - > Health and Wellbeing
  - > Anti Social Behavior
  - > Community Safety
  - > Environmental Sustainability (Carbon Footprint)
  - > Regeneration
  - > Education and Lifelong Learning
  - > Accessibility
- Increase participation in sport and create pathways for individuals to develop their skills
- Ensure co-ordination of the various internal Council departments and key external partners in delivering sport and physical activity related services

This document has been formulated after consultation with Sport England – Central, Public Health Warwickshire, SLM – Everyone Active, Voluntary Action Stratford-upon-Avon (VASA) and the Coventry Solihull & Warwickshire - County Sports Partnership (CSW-Sport).

Stratford District Council's contribution to the Health & Wellbeing Agenda

An important part of the District Councils contribution to the Health & Wellbeing agenda is delivered through the four leisure centres, the activity programmes co-ordinated by the Sports Development Team and the open green and play spaces.

Facts and figures for 2012/13:

- Almost 1 million visits were recorded at the four District Council Leisure Centres
- 3,982 are enrolled on the 'Learn to Swim' programme
- 4,252 registered fitness members
- 76,000 SLM Everyone Active Cards in circulation (Leisure Centre Membership Database)
- 59 Primary & Secondary Schools use our Leisure Centres
- 43 sports clubs and societies use our Leisure Centres on a weekly basis
- 1,572 young people who took part in our Hi-5 school holiday play schemes
- 4,576 older adults participated in our 'Active Aging' programme, i.e. Walk & Talk and Get Active

Birmingham City Council - 'Be Active' Scheme Case Study

Health and wellbeing positive impact leisure services can have on public health

The 'Be Active' Scheme is a partnership between Birmingham City Council and three Primary Care Trusts (PCT). Together they aim to tackle health inequalities for people living within the city, whilst encouraging greater participation in sport and physical activity.

The pilot scheme provided universal free access to the Council's leisure facilities and activity programmes during off peak times. The project was first introduced in 2008 in the Ladywood constituency and expanded across the city in 2009 to all 1.1 million residents.

Today over 300,000 people have accessed the scheme, with 60% of participants from the Black and Minority Ethnic (BME) communities and an equal split in male and female registration figures. Feedback from users identified that 74% were not previously a member of a leisure centre or gym before joining the scheme.

Independent analysis on the level of impact and success the scheme has achieved are identified in the following statistics:

- For every £1 invested in the 'Be Active' Scheme it generated on average a £2 cash saving to the Local Authority
- The local NHS receives up to £23 (the majority of this return is in terms of Quality of Life)
- When only cost savings and productivity gains were considered, every £1 invested returns £4 mainly by the NHS

Barriers to Participation

Whilst there will always be a proportion of residents who will remain uninterested in being physically active, we must strive to encourage our communities to choose to spend their leisure time being active rather than opting for sedentary pastimes. It is also important to recognise that at different life stages drop out occurs, so we need to challenge lifestyle habits.

The District Council will work with its partners to make people more aware of the benefits of leading a healthy lifestyle and the opportunities that are available to participate across the District. Providing high quality services and activity programmes will also encourage more people to start and sustain their participation.

National research by Sport England has identified the main barriers in participation to sport and physical activity as:

- Lack of awareness of what is available or appropriate
- Time
- Lack of role models
- Low aspirations
- Need for more childcare
- Suitability of offer
- Club capacity
- Image/perceptions
- Health or perception of health
- Transport
- Competing priorities
- Cost

Identified Priority Groups for the District Council

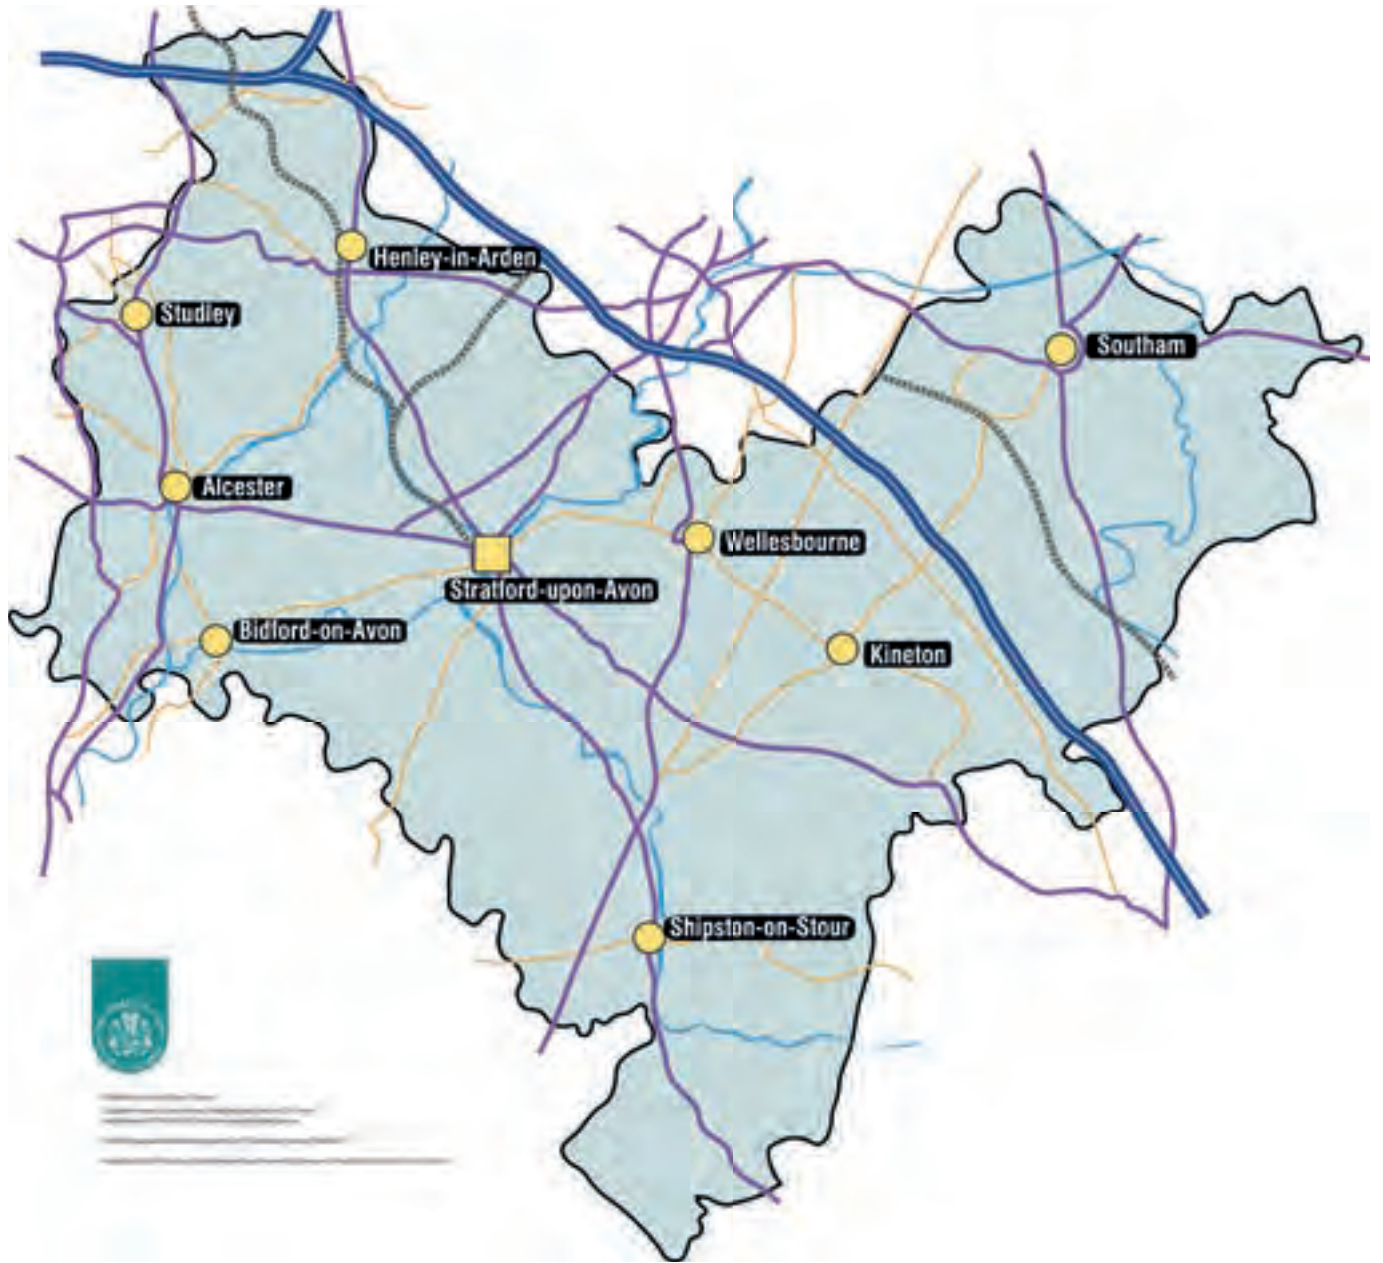

Whilst the sport and physical activity opportunities within each strategic theme need to involve everyone, research undertaken in the preparation of this document has highlighted the need for a special focus to be on the following groups.

Specific groups:

- 1 Women and Girls
- 2 People With Disabilities
  - Are a key priority in Central Government, Stratford-on-Avon District Council and Sport England.
  - Research conducted by Sport England has identified that these groups are under-represented as a proportion of the population and programmes should be developed to encourage greater participation in sport and physical activity.
- 3 Children & Young People
  - The most effective way to achieve raised levels of involvement in sport and physical activity is to attract people at an early age and to retain them via the provision of appropriate and personally sustainable opportunities.
  - Utilising sport and physical activity as a key vehicle to improve lifelong health, combat crime, enhance health, promote inclusion and support education and training is most effective when implemented via intervention at an early age.
- 4 Older Adults
  - The District has an ageing population; 51.8% of the local population is over 45 years, 22% of residents are aged 65 years plus.
  - An effective way to improve quality of life and promote independence is through raised levels of involvement in sport and physical activity via the provision of appropriate and personally sustainable opportunities.

Evidence Base - The People of the District

Stratford-on-Avon District has about 250 towns and villages spread over a predominately rural area covering 979 square kilometres. This makes it one of the largest Districts in England and means access to services is a major issue for residents.

Base: (Total Population)	(120,485)		(545,474)		(56,075,912)

*2011 Census Profile

The most recent comprehensive assessment of the people in the District was taken from the Office for National Statistics 2011 census profile. The population, as measured in that research, was 120,485 of which 49% were male and 51% female.

A key factor for the District is that the average age of local residents is 44 years, compared with an average age of 39 years across England as a whole. Over 51.8% of the local population is over 45 years; the comparative figure for England is 41.8%. 22% of residents are aged 65+, with only 17% under 16 years old.

In line with the rest of the Country, the Districts age distribution is top heavy, the proportion of the elderly aged 65+ has increased by nearly half over the last 10 years and this trend is expected to continue, placing increasing pressure on health and social care budgets.

Stratford District's population is predominantly of the white ethnic group. In total 93.6% of the population is classified as white compared to 92.8% for Warwickshire. 1.4% of the population is classified as Asian, with 0.6% classified as Black compared to 5.1% or 1.5% for the County. In 2011, there were 1,021 Polish people = 0.8% of the population of Stratford-on-Avon District.

The Bigger Picture

There are eight key policies and initiatives that have influenced the development of the Active Communities Strategy 2013-2018:

1. The Marmot Review 2010

The Marmot Review into health inequalities in England was published in 2010. It proposed an evidence based strategy to address the social determinants of health, the conditions in which people are born, grow, live, work and age and which can lead to health inequalities. It has drawn further attention to the evidence that most people in England aren't living as long as the better off in society and spend longer in ill-health.

The detailed report contains many important findings, some of which are summarised below.

- People living in the poorest neighbourhoods in England will on average die seven years earlier than people living in the richest neighbourhoods
- Health inequalities arise from a complex interaction of many factors – housing, income, education, social isolation, disability – all of which are strongly affected by one's economic and social status
- Health inequalities are largely preventable. Not only is there a strong social justice case for addressing health inequalities, there is also a pressing economic case. It is estimated that the annual cost of health inequalities is between £36 to £40 billion through lost taxes, welfare payments and costs to the NHS
- Action on health inequalities requires action across all the social determinants of health, including education, occupation, income, home and community

2. Sport England Youth & Community Strategy 2012-2017

The 2012-2017 Youth and Community Strategy was launched in January 2012. It details how Sport England will invest over £1 billion of National Lottery and Exchequer funding over five years into four main areas of work.

- (1) National Governing Body (2013-2017) Funding
- (2) Facilities
- (3) Local Investment
- (4) Youth Sport

The overall ambition of the strategy is to increase the number of people who play sports regularly, reduce the number of young people who stop playing sport when they finish school and help continue the Olympic & Paralympic Games Legacy Programme.

3. Change4Life

Change4Life is a public health programme in England which began in January 2009. The campaign aims to encourage people to lead healthier lives, using the slogan “eat well, move more, live longer”.

Initially, Change4Life focused on young families with children aged 5-11, but since its launch this has expanded to also target parents of 1-4 years olds (Early Years) and new parents with babies (Start4Life).

Change4Life is arranged into a number of sub-brands that promote a single issue with either a food or an activity focus (e.g. cooking is promoted via cook4life; swimming is promoted via swim4life). Change4Life has seven sub-brands (bike, breakfast, cook, dance, play, swim and walk).

4. Public Health England - Healthy Lives, Healthy People

The ‘Healthy Lives, Healthy People’ Strategy for public health in England sets out the Government’s long-term vision for the future of public health.

In a move to strengthen both national and local leadership, Directors of Public Health, employed by local authorities and jointly appointed with Public Health England, will lead on driving health improvement locally. Local Authorities will deploy resources to improve health and well-being in their communities using ring-fenced health improvement budgets allocated by the Department of Health.

5. Warwickshire Joint Health & Wellbeing Strategy

The Joint Health & Wellbeing Strategy is a plan that has been developed between NHS Warwickshire, Warwickshire County Council and District and Borough Councils in the county. The document is split into three sections.

The first section looks at different factors affecting the health and wellbeing across the whole life and how the environment and communities impact on our health. The second explains the national priorities for health, social care and public health and how these areas will be monitored by the government. The third section explains what are the priorities for health and wellbeing for Warwickshire. These priorities have been determined by the Joint Strategic Needs Assessment (JSNA).

Local Health Facts to Warwickshire:

- In some areas of Warwickshire people live 13 years less than in Stratford District
- 25% of people are obese
- 20% of people still smoke
- 14% of children are growing up in poverty

6. Public Health England

In April 2013 the lead responsibility for Public Health transferred to Local Government. As part of the reorganization a new executive agency called Public Health England (PHE) has been created as part of a new integrated public health service, which brings together the wide range of specialists and bodies into one organization. PHE overall goal is to work with partners to increase healthy life expectancy and reduce health inequalities.

Public Health England mission states – our work saves lives, promotes wellbeing and creates environments where individuals, families and communities can feel informed, empowered, healthier and happier.

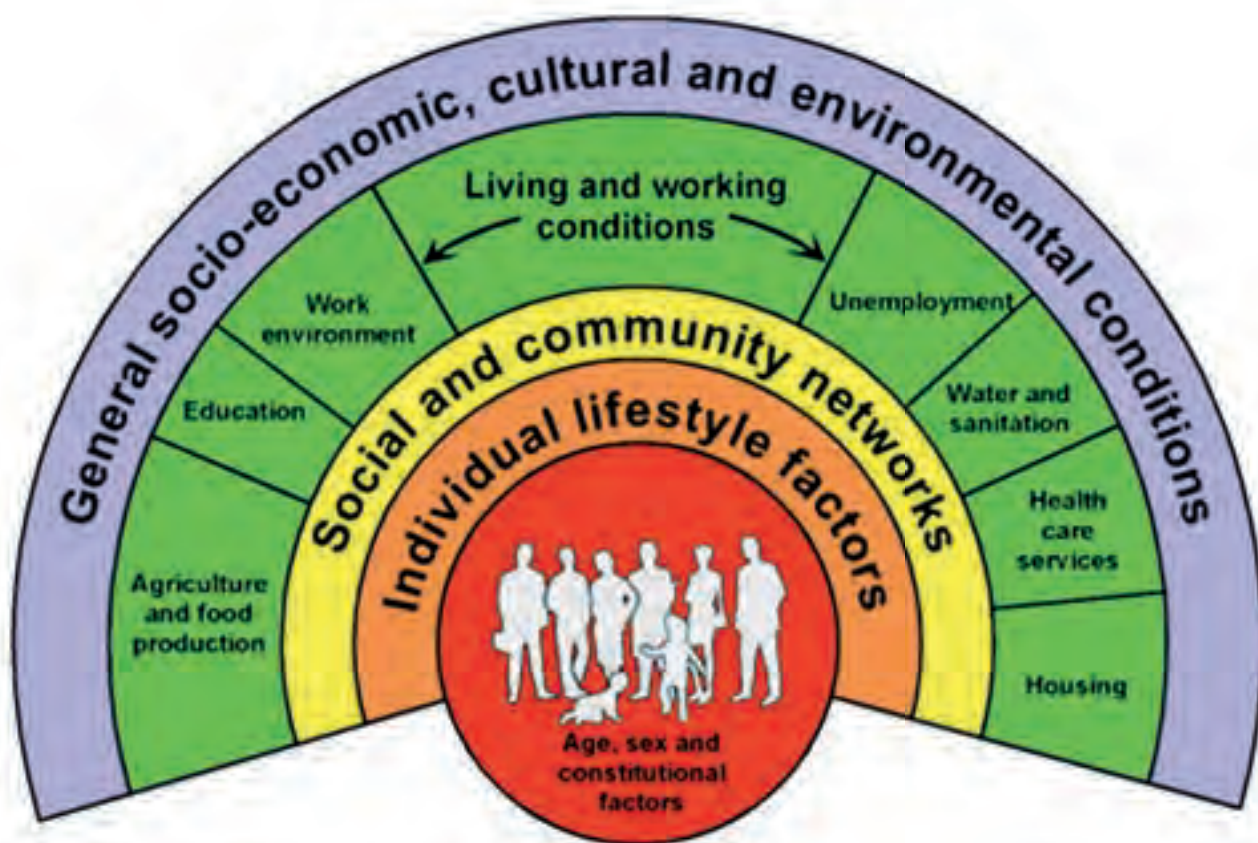

A new Public Health Outcome Framework has also been created which sets out key indicators from the wider determinants of health through to effectiveness in reducing premature mortality.

7. Determinants of Health Model

The health and wellbeing of residents and communities is influenced both positively and negatively, by a wide range of inter-related factors. These factors, also known as the determinants of health are shown in the diagram below as layers of influence, starting with the individual and moving to wider society.

At the core of the model, are fixed determinants which exert the greatest influence over an individual's health such as age, sex and genetics. The surrounding layers of the model can potentially be modified to achieve a positive impact on the population's health:

- Individual lifestyles factors such as smoking habits, diet and physical activity have the potential to promote or damage health.
- Social and community networks such as interactions with friends, relatives and mutual support within a community can influence health.
- General socio-economic, cultural and environmental conditions such as living and working conditions, food supplies, access to essential goods and services, and the overall economic, cultural and environmental conditions prevalent in society as a whole (Cavill et al 2006).

Source: Dahlgren and Whitehead, 1991

It is therefore imperative for the District Council that partnership working with a number of key departments and agencies such as Environmental Health, Planning and Housing are encapsulated in the Active Communities Strategy to ensure that the impact of their work on physical activity levels is outlined and embedded, consequently, increasing the opportunities for people to become more active.

8. Sport England – Data jigsaw for Stratford District participation levels across the District

It is important to recognise that the breadth of participation in physical activity extends from everyday activity such as gardening and walking, all the way through to sports such as swimming, regular cycling, exercise, fitness and structured forms of competitive sport. The latest Sport England 'Active People's 6' survey was conducted in 2012. The primary objective was to measure levels of participation in sport, physical activity and its contribution to improving the health of the nation.

Participation rates in sport for adults in Stratford District, as measured through the Active People's survey, demonstrates the District is above the national average figure. There has been no significant increase over the last five years; consequently a need to focus on improving and sustaining participation levels is seen as a key challenge for the Council and its partners.

The volunteering rates amongst Stratford District residents are also above the national average. The District Council's Walk & Talk which is delivery by volunteer walk leaders has an economic value of over £8,000 per year. It is recognised that volunteering in England contributes an equivalent of over 80,000 employees each year in sports participation, and can be viewed as a cornerstone of community sport, without which far fewer opportunities would exist for residents to participate. Increasing and sustaining volunteering is viewed as a positive step to support increased participation.
