Ilmington	ILM.01	South of Armscote Road	LSV3															Three fields of extant ridge and furrow mapped as part of the South-East Warwickshire and Cotswold Hills HLS. Photos taken in 2012-13 from the air show some of them still surviving. However, google maps also shows ridge and furrow on this site.
Ilmington	ILM.02	East of Front Street	LSV3															The site of a Roman Settlement known from finds of pottery and tiles. The site is located 600m north east of the church of Ilmington. 141 sherds of Roman date brought into Warwick Museum. This pottery seems to have a 2nd century to 4th century date range. This scatter has also produced tile, suggesting the presence of a building. This includes a piece of flue tile, which implies the proximity of a building of some substance and sophistication. Independent research undertaken in 2014 confirmed the presence of a Late Iron Age and Roman settlement focus on Windmill Hill. A rapid fieldwalking exercise identified further pottery and roof tiles and complemented a geophysical (fluxgate gradiometer) survey, undertaken at the same time which revealed a sub-rectangular enclosure with peripheral enclosures. There is reference to ridge and furrow from RAF photos taken.
Ilmington	ILM.03	North of Ballards Lane	LSV3															There is reference to ridge and furrow on HER records.
Ilmington	ILM.04	South of Ballards Lane	LSV3															There is reference to ridge and furrow on HER records. Site is also part of possible extent of medieval settlement.
Ilmington	ILM.05	East of Foxcote Hill	LSV3															Ridge and Furrow identified on part of the site.
Ilmington	ILM.06	South of Campden Hill	LSV3															Surviving ridge and furrow on seven fields in area. Series of small post-medieval quarry pits mapped from photos. Earthworks visible possibly of medieval date.
Ilmington	ILM.07	North of Campden Hill	LSV3															Ridge and furrow possible on site.
Ilmington	ILM.08	East of Back Street	LSV3															Probable extent of a medieval settlement indicated on OS map of 1886. It is the site of a medieval moat, which presently lies under fishponds. Part excavation has uncovered some medieval occupation debris, and the site remains visible as earthwork.
Ilmington	ILM.09	North of Back Street (west)	LSV3															Probable extent of a medieval settlement indicated on OS map of 1886. Conservation setting and listed building setting would be affected by development. The view from the site (s) to LB and CA is currently uninterrupted.
Ilmington	ILM.10	North of Back Street (middle)	LSV3															Probable extent of a medieval settlement indicated on OS map of 1886. Conservation setting and listed building setting would be affected by development. The view from the site (s) to LB and CA is currently uninterrupted.
Ilmington	ILM.11	North of Back Street (east)	LSV3															Probable extent of a medieval settlement indicated on OS map of 1886. Conservation setting and listed building setting would be affected by development. The view from the site (s) to LB and CA is currently uninterrupted.
Ilmington	ILM.12	South of Mickleton Road	LSV3															Probable extent of a medieval settlement indicated on OS map of 1886.
Ilmington	ILM.13	North of Mickleton Road	LSV3															Within a possible region of ridge and furrow. RAF photos suggest medieval ridge and furrow present.
Ilmington	ILM.14	West of Front Street	LSV3															Probable extent of a medieval settlement indicated on OS map of 1886. Evidence of roman occupation of the site in the 3rd Century AD was identified during investigations in 2016.
Ilmington	ILM.15	East of Stratford Road	LSV3															Within a possible region of ridge and furrow. RAF photos suggest medieval ridge and furrow present.
